

ClimBEco Introductory Course 2017

13-15 February 2017
Lund University

This course is mandatory for all ClimBEco participants, but we apologize for the very short notice and understand if you will not be able to attend the course. If the number of participants is too low, there will be another opportunity later.

The main goal of the course is to introduce how various types of scientific knowledge can be integrated. You will reflect upon your own research fields as well as learn from ongoing interdisciplinary projects.

Some chapters of Gunilla Öberg's book "Interdisciplinary environmental studies: A primer" (John Wiley & Sons, 2011) will be used as course material.

Send your application to: Annika.malmgren_widerberg@cec.lu.se
Deadline for application: 3rd of February
